

جامعة المجمعة
Majmaah University

Support to Students with Special Needs

Introduction:

Majmaah University strives to provide equal opportunities for students with special needs, as well as healthy colleagues, to join the entire world of its educational and social programs, based on its belief in its duty to serve all members of the community in its entirety. We would like to review the study plans at their various colleges to be appropriate for people with special needs while maintaining the quality of the content of academic scientific programs.

Because of the importance of being an environment suitable for serving individual and collective special needs and prepared for them from the very first moments of joining the university, the University seeks to harness all its energies and potential and its staff do their best to make sure that this is achieved.