Introduction

The basic purpose of education all over the world is to groom a student mentally, emotionally and academically so as to make him a beneficial individual of the society. Hence, delimiting the concept of education of a student to his curriculum is not a good idea, because a student has to retain the information contained in curriculum only to pass his exams successfully. According to this idea main focus is given only to mental training of the student while the rest of the aspects of education are totally neglected.

This idea has been rejected by modern educators and psychologists and because of that the need of the advisory came in. This idea helps and encourages the students to know and understand themselves better. It identifies their needs and problems and guides them to make decisions and solve their problems according to their knowledge and desires. These goals help to groom their personality and improve their psychological health, ultimately making them successful individuals of society.

The Vision

To prepare a generation of the female graduates, who are equipped with the basic knowledge and skills that will qualify them to specialize in the field of the employment. Motivate them to complete their higher studies according to the standards of the Higher Education, besides inculcating in them the Islamic values, positive behavior and national fervor.

The Mission

God willing, the students will graduate from our college (College of Education in Zulfi) well equipped with deep knowledge, high skills and true Islamic values that will allow them the opportunity to be active citizens who are able to build the next generation.

General Goals

- Giving an integrated care (Social, psychological, economic, educational and health care)to all of the students.
- To help the students in self-realization by the configuration of the positive and realistic concepts. With their confidence increased, it leads to a strengthened motivation to work and achievement.
- Giving a developing preventative and therapeutic services to the students by a scientific method according to the scientific courses of the advisory and consolation which is going to achieve the integration of the personal aspects.
- To help the students achieve the social, psychological and professional harmonization according to the social values and standards and help them get the proper interaction with the social environment, in with the vision of the college and family.
- To help the students invest their abilities for improvement of conditions and serve themselves and the college environment and help them achieve the loyalty ,belonging and good citizenship.
- To help the students be aware of the importance of the social advisory and the advisory to the students and to help them to know about its fields and methods which will help them to take advantage of it.

Typical Goals

To provide a socially, culturally and academically healthy educational environment to the students and pay an attention to polishing their abilities in scientific and professional methods.

- To provide a conducive educational program and developing investigative abilities of the students.
- To help the students get the benefits of the different programs which will help them satisfy their needs and to achieve social and psychological harmony.
- Help students successfully face challenges weather that is within the family, social or psychological one or whether it is related to the college environment. It will be done by using the proper treatment methods through the social service, in collaboration with the team from the administration of social advisory and the advisory of the students.
- Making a modification to some of the negative behavioral patterns of the students that is not in line with religious values or if they are considered as a kind of actual infringement.
- To help the students to be aware of real life situations and the system of the study and the exams.

Right concepts about the advisory:	Wrong concepts about the advisory :
The advisory is a service which is given to all of right people looking to help the person to understand themselves with self-realization based on the opportunities of the real-life.	The advisory service is a service which is given to the patients and those people who have problems.
That must be done by the specialists who are qualified scientifically and practically.	Anyone can play that role .
It's not limited to the people who have had psychological problems only but also to all of people in order to increases the excellence, the harmonization, the motivation, the ambition and the ability of success.	It is limited to the students who have had psychological problems.
Giving an advisory can be anywhere but its basic condition is to be a secret.	They will be at an advisory center or at a psychiatric clinic.

Concept of the Advisory Service to Students

The Purpose of advisory is to help students understand themselves, their abilities and solve their various problems. But in the educational field it is known as an organized process that seeks to help the students understand their character, know their abilities and solves problems according to the Islamic teachings and to achieve their goals according to the general goals of the Majmaah university.

The advisory process is an evaluation process which happens directly between two people, one of them helps the other to understand the problems clearly and increase his ability to solve them. It is actually more than just an advice.

In order to provide the Educational advisory to the students, it must be organized in a giving and taking kind of way and in a situation of the mutual confidence and respect.

Even though the role of the Educational advisory is important it is not considered more than to be a service among the services of the advisory, and as a process to become a basic tool in helping the students to face their problems.

According to what we said above we draw a definition of the concept of the advisory as follows:

" a set of educational services which work for the development of the psychological, academic, social and professional aspects of the students in order to help them understand themselves, their abilities and self and environmental conditions and also help them in achieving their goals and what is commensurate with their personal and environmental conditions."

Educational Supervisor's Missions:

A lot of the educational and counseling responsibilities rest with the educational counselor who works in the unit of the advisory and counseling or in the unit of the electronic counseling. They are the following ones:

- To conduct the studies and researches to identify the psychological, social and educational problems and conditions and needs of the students.
- Make the psychological, behavioral and educational tests by using the prepared and certified forms to identify problems faced by the students.
- Provide an individual counseling to the students who are facing social, behavioral, educational or psychological problems by using all of capabilities and experiences in this field through her presence in the unit of educational counseling/advisory office.
- Giving the counseling/advisory with regard to the students cases to the faculty members.
- To transfer the cases that cannot be dealt with to the competent authorities.
